DETAILED ACTION

Acknowledgment

1. This Office Action is responsive to the Amendment filed on 7/13/2005.

Claim Objections

2. Claims 1, 2 and 8 are objected to because of the following informalities:

The recitation of "the said shaped clock" recited in claim 1, line 6 is suggested to change to either – the shaped clock – or – said shaped clock --.

Similar suggestion is applied for the recitation of "the said signal stream" recited in claim 2, line 4.

The recitation of "converted signals" recited at the last line of claim 8 is suggested to be deleted.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1-8 and 10-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Bray et al (6,430,695).

Regarding claims 18 and 10-13, Bray as shown in figures 1-5, teaches a network transceiver having circuitry for selecting clocks for transmission. Note that the clocks are generated by the PLL based on a clock input; therefor, the output clocks of the PLL are considered to be shaped. See also column 1, line 63 to column 2, line 63; and column 3, line 13 to column 6, line 53.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 9 and 14 are allowed over prior art of record.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments, see pages 9-12 of the Amendment, filed 7/13/05, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 1, 4-9, and 11-14 under 102(b) have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn.

However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of Bray et al (6,430,695).
